> The irredentists of Italy seem to have the mainspring of their grievance in the failure of Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria to visit King Victor Emmanuel. There are of course more solid reasons for opposition, but just now this isthe uppermost. Italy and Austria are allied with Germany in the triple alliance, and the Italians who are not pro-Pope are outraged that the Austrian emperor does not call on his ally. The fact is, though, that he cannot, for he would affront the Vatican if he visited the Quirinal without paying his respects to the pontiff, and vice versa. It is proposed that the emperor make one pilgrimage to Victor Emmanuel and another to the Pope. Besides this Italian students some weeks ago raised a tromendous row against Austria on account of alleged bad treatment of Italian residents in Austria.]

LATE TELEGRAMS.

Russians Deserting.

Calcutta, March 26 .-- An Englishman cable, dated London, March 25, says: A band of Russians have been captured crossing the frontier to evade military obligatidns. Three women were shot and thirty men taken prisoners.

England's Influence on Japan. Allahabad, March 26 .- A Pioneer special says: There is good authority for saying that the moderation of Japan's last Note was due to the influence of the British Foreign Office. The disclosure has increased Parliamentary feeling in favour of Japan.

Blocking Port Arthur.

London, March 27 .- An official despatch, published at St. Petersburg, states that early in the morning of the 27th instant four large merchant steamers, convoyed by torpedo boats, approached Port Arthur harbour, but were discovered by the searchlights. The Russian batteries and guardships at once opened a heavy Lieutenant Krinizki, commanding the torpedo boat Silney, fearing the enemy might break through, turned the merchantmen from their course, blowing up the prow of the leading steamer. Three steamers were stranded on the right side of the fairway and the fourth sank clear of the channel, which is still open. The Silvey then engaged the Japanese torpede boats, losing seven men killed and thirteen wounded, including her commander. The Japanese fleet appeared at day-break and the Russian squadron put out to meet them, but no engagement resulted, the Japanese retiring southwards. A further official account describes the merchantmen as fireships. It is reported at St Petersburg that " Russian torpedo boat was sunk.

Further Details.

March 28,- Further official telegrams received at St. Petersburg state that when the Jaranese fleet appeared on the morning of the 27th, the Russian fleet was leading the harbour and opened fire with the forts on the Japanese fleet, which withdrew, evidently declining an engagement.

The Silvey's engines were damaged by a shell during the fight with the Japanese torpedo boats. The Silney stranded on a reof, but was subsequently refloated and entered the harbour.

An infernal machine was found on board the fireships and the connecting wires were cut by the officers who bounded the sunken steamer and extinguished the fire. The fireships were armed with machine guns, which were used against the Russian torpedo boats. The crews escaped in Japanese in Corea.

Allahabad, March 29. - A Pioneer special message, dated London, 28th March, says: Russian telegrams estimate that a Japanese force of 80,000 is advancing northwards in Corea.

A wireless telegraphic message to The Times from off l'ort Arthur describes a sortie of five Russian battleships and cruiser and suggests that a decisive paval batthe is possible in the near future.

An An bulance Corps.

Calcutta, March 29 -Subscriptions are being collected by a Bengali agency here to sond two native doctors with two apothecaries and twenty-five young men to form a red-cross ambulance crops for the wounded in the Russo-Japanese war.

Mighty Throng of Worshippers. Rome, April 12.- To-day in Rome was of the most noted since Pope Pius X, mounted the chair of Peter. It was the occasion of the celebration of the first public mass of the new pontiff. At the great altae in St. i oter's, the Pope went through the secred ceremony before a worshipping audience of 7 4000 people. These were not all of Rome nor of Italy; nor indeed of Europe, for pilgrims were gathered from every part of the earth, and the scene was magnificent and impressive.

The War.

Chefon, April 11.-Estimates of the number of Russian troops now in Manchuris and northern Korea place the total at half a million men. It is reported that Kuropatkin is now planning a more aggressive campaign though he will still maintain a strong defense along the line of railroad.

Tokio, April 12.-Next month Japan will start its second army for the front and preparations on a large scale are now being made for the equipment and provisioning of these troops. The second Japanese army is known as the Reserve and consists of 2,400 officers and 201,709 men, giving a total of 204,109.

The Japanese army is divided into the standing army, which includes the reserve, the landwehr, the depot, and the landsturm, after the German model. The active army is levied from males of the age of twenty and the term of service is three The sarmy of reserve consists of those who have quitted the active army, and the term of service is four years and four months. The landwehr consists of those who have quitted the standing army, and the term of service is five years. When the second army reaches Korea, Japan will have in the field almost 409,000 men, to be more exact, about 370,000.-Manila Cableneus]

For the unsatisfactory state of trade, Mr Morse puts forward three causes, and in the forefront we notice in China, and he suggests concerted be places the serious fluctuations in section by the ten pailds for the educaexchange, the others being monetary stringency and the failure of the silk erop in Mid China. The imports most | Ceylon planters have spent, two and seriously affected by the fluctuation exchange were cotton manufactures. The value of cotton manufactures imported amounted to Hackwan tacks 128,620,004, as compared with Haekwan taels 127,545,309 in 1902; but, WATSON & CO., as Mr Morse points out, the discrepancy between the standards of quantity and of value is most clearly shown in cotton. In plain fabrics, for instance, there was a falling off from 19,015,300 pieces in 1902 to 13,835,506 pieces in Successful Japanese Strategy.

·Kasuga and 'Nisshin' in Action.

Japanese Consul, for the following copy of an official telegram received by him from Tokio, describing the manceuvres at Port Arthur which led to the loss of the Russian battleship Petroparlarsk and a torpedo-boat destroyer:

Tokyo, April 17, 12.50 a.m. Admiral Togo reports that our combined fleet commenced the eighth attack on Port | the successes of the Japanese land forces in Arthur on the 11th inst., as previously planned. The Fourth and Fifth torpedoboat-destroyer flotillas, the 14th torpedo flotilla, and the Korpo Marre reached the mouth of Port Arthur at midnight on the 12th inst., and offected the laying of mines at several points outside the Port, defying the enemy's search-lights.

At dawn on the 13th inst, the Second torpedo-destroyer flotilla descried a Russian destroyer trying to enter Port Arthur Harbour, and, after an attack lasting ten minutes, sank her.

Another Russian destroyer was discovered coming from the direction of Laotishan and our ships attacked her; she managed to flee, however, into the harbour.

On our side during these engagements we suffered no casualties with the exception that two seamen on the destroyer * Thusuch were slightly wounded.

We had no time to rescue the crew from the sinking Russian vessel, as the enemy's to land on the Yalu. The Cossacks sumcruiser Bayan approached the vicinity at that time.

The Third fleet arrived off Port Arthur at eight o'clock that morning, when the Russian cruiser Bayan came out of Port Arthur harbour and attacked.

The Russian cruisers North, Askeld, and Diana, and the battleships Petropaclorsk, Pobieda, and Pollara immediately came out and commenced an offensive attack.

Our Third fleet, tardily answering the Russian guns, and gradually retiring, enticed the enemy 15 miles south-east of Port Arthur, when our First fleet, receiving information from the Third by means of wireless telegraphy, suddenly appeared before the enemy and opened fire.

While the enemy was endeavouring to regain Port Arthur a battleship of the Petroparloesk type struck the mines we had laid on the previous evening, and sank at enlisting to follow their husbands. No 10.32 a.m.

Although another ship was observed to have lost her freedom of movement, the confusion of the enemy's ships prevented us from identifying her. The enemy finally managed to regain

Port Arthur. Our Third deet suffered no damage, and damage sustained by the enemy, excepting what has been mentioned above, was probably elight also. Our First fleet did not arrive within firing distance.

Our fleets retired at I p.m. and prepared for another attack. Our ships again made an approach Port Arthur on the 14th inst.

The Second, Fourth, and Fifth destroyer flotillas, and the Ninth torpedo flotilla also joined our larger ships at 3 a.m., and the Third fleet at 7 a.m.

None of the enemy's ships were outside Port Arthur at that time.

Our First fleet arrived at 9 a.m., discovered three mines haid by the enemy, and destroyed them.

The new cruisors Kasuga and Nisshin were despatched to the west of Lactishan and made an indirect bombardment for two hours, this being the first action of these

The same dispatch state that Kores, near the vicinity of the Yelu, are causing a panic amongst the Russians in and around Moukden similar to that shown by them when news of the astounding successes of the Japanese fleet at Port Arthur and Chemulpo was received. was generally believed amongst Russians as well as natives in Manchuria that while Japan would be victorious on the sea, it would be the reverse when the land forces of the belligerents came to blows. The recent forward advance of the Japanese to the banks of the Yalu followed by the pellmell crossing over of that river from the Korean side by the Russians into Manchuria-all this has caused a revulsion of feeling, especially amongst the Chinese who are eagerly waiting for the time welcome the Japanese armies when they shall take possession of Fengtien province,

A RUSSIAN STORY. The Echo de Chine of April 9 has a letter from its Russian correspondent, undated which contains details of several Russian successes over the Japanese on land, among them the following which is headed 'Latest News': - The Cossacks of the Amur, Orenburg, and the Ussuri have just charged the Japanese who had endear oured made no reply. The whole line of Cossacks sabred the Japanese advanced guard. We had 58 killed and 63 wounded, including four officers; the Japanese had 800 men hors de combat. The Japaneso were attacked on three sides. The river Yalu was their only refuge. This evening there have been fresh engagements on the Yalu. The results are not known."

RUSSIAN REINFORCEMENTS. We gather from the same source says the N. C. Daily News, that the Russians are receiving reinforcements of which the Western world generally is quite memscious. 'The Ostiaks have put 10,000 dogs at the disposition of the Russian Government : the Vogouks 25,000 : the Kuriata 27,000; the Kamschatkans, 100,000, etc., for the carriage of stores. Then come the Laplanders with 125,000 reindeer, and you see that we shall not want food. At the same time, 100,000 sleighs are en route, for the Far East, drawn alternating by horses, dogs, or reindeer, coming from Finland-Lapland. Even the Buriat women are need to speak of the women of Kamschatka, they are all warriors. I repeat it, the whole Russian world is aroused.

The following narrative of the massacre in British North Borneo (referred to in our Special Telegram of the 11th inst.) is published by the Singapore Free Press :-We have received from a correspondent n British North Borneo details of a terrible massacre on the west coast of British North Borneo. The facts set forth by our correspondent are :--On March 31 at 10 p.m. at night a band of 150 rebels from the interior, armed with guns, parangs, spears and blowpipes, swept down upon the residents of the little Colony at Kawang Railway Station, midway between Jesselton and Papar.

The band divided into two parts, one of a hundred remaining concealed as a reserve on the top of a hill, while the other fifty rushed down on the settlement, butchered the inmates of the Chinese shops, attacked the railway station, smashed the telephone, killed the wife and child of the stationmaster, the latter saving his life by hiding in a bush. The band of murderers then turned \ their attention to the poor coolies, most of them Chinese, killing and wounding in savage fashion right and left. The railway driver was their next victim, a speedy and terrible end coming to him and his wife. The carnage then became general, males, innocent babes were cold blood-or rather moned the Japanese to surrender, but they | in the lust for blood. Tona, March 20. The 23rd Pioneers, and the Maxim section of the Norfolks. who have been in Tuna since January 8th have been exposed to hardships quite as severe as those suffered by the garrison at Phari. The cold has been intense. For a week the mean temperature day and night was 16. The maximum temperature in the day on January 28th was 1. degrees below zero on January 8th.

Usually a hittorly cold wind rises at 11 in the morning and blows all day, carrying with it a cloud of dust. The houses of the village are poor and dirty with two blackened rafters. The provalent yak dung fuel, which is quite insufficient to warm tham, fills the rooms with a choking smoke that affects the lung. and causes sore throats and hacking coughs. After a few weeks of these hovels the garrison abandoned them for tents, preferring the cold to the filth. The Native troops have suffered severely from the cold. The daily allowance of firewood is one pound per man. The sepoys and British soldiers are employedla large part of the day piling up the dung of yaks and wild asses. THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY

This successful and lightly popular remedy, as employed in the Continental Huspitalsby Ricord. Rostan, Johert, Velpesu, and others, combines all the desiderata to be mught in a medicine of the kind and surpasses everything hitherto employed. THERAPION NO. 1.
in a remarkably shortime, often a few days only, removes all discharges from the urinary organs, superseding injections the use of which does irreparable harm by laying the foundation of stricture and other serious diseases.

THERAPION NO. 2
for impurity of the blood, scurvy, pimples, spots, blotches, pains and swelling of the joints, secondary symptoms, gout, heumatism, and all diseases for which it has been too much a fashion to employ mercury, sarsappilla, &c., to the destruction of sufferers' teeth and ruin of health. This preparation purifies the whole system through the blood, and thoroughly climinates every poisonous matter from the body.

THERAPION No. 3

for nervous exhaustion; impaired vitality, alcohors, ness, and all the districting consequences of early error, excess, residente in hot, unhealthy climates, &c. It possesses suprising power in restoring strength and vigour to the debilitated.
